

DEFENSE COLLAPSING IN WESTERN SICILY

GERMANS RUSH RESERVES TO OREL BATTLE

After Reported To Have Ordered City Held at All Costs.

By The Associated Press
MOSCOW, July 22—German reserves rushed into the Orel front yesterday, but were halted by the Soviet offensive which had been held up to within nine miles of the German stronghold, the Russians announced today.

In a battle of increasing violence which raged 200 miles south of Moscow, the Russians said they beat off German attacks, and announced they had gained territory for gains of four to five miles and overran 90 villages.

The London radio said Hitler had ordered Orel, hinge of the entire Nazi south-central defense line, held "at all costs."

Three Pronged Drive
The three-pronged Russian drive which threatened to outflank the city of 110,000 from the north and south and menaced it from the east, held these positions.

Driving from the north, the Russians had reached Buzki, about 16 miles west of the city and within five miles of the crucial Orel-Bryansk railway at a point 38 miles northeast of Bryansk.

Another column from the north had topped Oputkha, nine miles northeast of Orel on the railway from fallen Mtsensk.

Soviet forces smashing frontally from the east had driven into Zolotarevo, 11 miles away.

The southern advance on the city was meeting the toughest German opposition and a Soviet communique said only that the Russians "continued to forge ahead."

Nazis Lose Heavily
In yesterday's severe battles the Russians said they knocked out more than 77 tanks and 131 Nazi planes in the Orel sector alone.

Yesterday's Nazi losses brought the totals since July 5 to 3,393 tanks and 2,342 planes destroyed and more than 75,000 Germans slain.

The Berlin radio, explaining the Nazi retreat as part of the high command's plan "to force the enemy to the greatest use and exhaustion of his forces" in battles of attrition "where the goal is not to gain ground," said 45,172 Russians had been taken prisoner and 4,227 tanks and 2,344 planes had been destroyed or captured since July 5.

2ND STRIKE IN WEEK
HITS RUBBER PLANT

By The Associated Press
AKRON, O., July 22—War labor board modification was begun today in an effort to end a strike of 500 division workers at the General Tire and Rubber Co., second work stoppage in the war-busy plant in less than a week.

Federal Conciliator Paul Fuller said he had recommended to the Washington office that the dispute, which started at 1 a. m. yesterday, be certified to the WLB immediately.

Fuller said the workers walked out of their jobs because the company had discharged six members of the CIO United Rubber Workers of America Tuesday "for violation of company rules." He said at least one of the employees discharged was dropped from the company for failure to resume work during a short-lived strike.

Company officials who requested arbitration, said early today that they would affect the company's entire production program to truck passenger car and military tires, and "will throw another 1,000 employees out of work," unless an early settlement is reached.

CHURCH SEATS
NEW BISHOP

Most Rev. James A. McFadden Takes Leadership of Newly-Created Ohio See.

By The Associated Press

YOUNGSTOWN, O., July 22—In a ceremony at St. Columba's church, the Most Rev. James A. McFadden today was installed as first bishop of the newly-created Youngstown Catholic diocese and spiritual leader of nearly 150,000 parishioners in industrial Mahoning county.

The church hierarchy, hundreds of monks, priests and nuns, and laity crowded the stately, 40-year-old edifice to witness the centuries-old ritual conducted by Archbishop John T. McNicholas of Cincinnati.

Following a brief procession which included two archbishops and 17 bishops, the head of the new see and Archbishop McNicholas proceeded to the altar of the church, which now becomes St.
Columba's cathedral and seat of the diocese embracing Mahoning, Trumbull, Stark, Portage, Ashtabula and Columbiana counties.

Ordained 38 Years Ago Bishop McFadden, ordained to the priesthood 38 years ago in his native Cleveland, and recently auxiliary bishop and chancellor of that diocese, knelt at a priedieu as Archbishop McNicholas took his throne at the right of the altar. The bishop moved to a faldstool as the ecclesiastical decrees separating the six counties from the Cleveland diocese, and appointing him head of the new see were read.

In a brief sermon following the installation, Archbishop McNicholas named Bishop McFadden in the name of the bishop of the ecclesiastical province of Cincinnati and to his place "at our council table."

"A hundred and a score years have passed since, Sainly Bishop Fenwick, took possession of the first diocese in Ohio," the archbishop said. "His see comprised the entire state with administrative powers provisionally extended to Michigan and the Northwest Territory."

"Today we inaugurate the fifth and latest diocese of Ohio—the newly-created see of Youngstown.
The archbishop said Ohio had only about 3,000 Catholics when the church's first bishop was sent to the state, contrasting that number with the church's present membership of 150,000."

NEXT WAR BOND GOAL
SET AT 15 BILLIONS

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, July 22—Digging deeper than ever into the pockets of the average citizen, Uncle Sam will set out in September to break his own world's record for financing war.

Starting Sept. 9, the nation's third war loan drive will seek to raise $15,000,000,000—all of it to come from non-banking sources.

The first drive last December was aimed at a $9,000,000,000 goal, but actually raised nearly $13-000,000,000. In April, the treasury department shot for $13,000,000-000—and got $18,500,000,000.
However, banking sources brought in about $5,000,000,000 of each total.

GALION, July 22—City health commissioner for the past 12 years, and one time Crawford county coroner, Dr. J. G. Mannhardt, 62, was found dead in his office on North Columbus street shortly before 3 p. m. Wednesday. Patients from Crestline who called at his office found the body there. Dr. O. R. Kackley, Crawford county coroner, said he believed organic heart trouble caused his death some time Tuesday night, weather conditions making it difficult to tell exactly how long he had been dead.
He had talked to Mrs. Susie Janis of Mansfield Monday evening.

A lifelong resident of Galion, Dr. Mannhardt was the son of a Galion physician, Dr. Frederick Mannhardt. His mother was the former Barbara Kern. He was born Feb. 14, 1881. At Ohio Wesleyan university he received his
A. B. degree and then went to Western Reserve university to complete his education where he received the degree of doctor of medicine. He began his practice in Galion and remained here until his death.

Surviving are two sisters, Katherine Bauman, who lived at the office home with Dr. Mannhardt, and Mrs. Elizabeth Coblenz of Stockton, Calif.

62 Marion-Reserve Power Co. Workers' Project Has 44 Individual Plots Plus 8-Acre Community Plot.

By BOB BYRD

Victory gardening on a wholesale basis is being conducted in an extremely practical manner by some 62 employees of the Marion-Reserve Power Co.

When the Marion-Reserve Garden club members gathered at their "community farm" early this week to hold one of a series of get-together work sessions, followed by a social hour, officers of the club reviewed the progress of the unusual project which is providing the members with plenty of food for current consumption and a good store against next winter's needs.

The 62 members have plenty to do, for the farm, as they occasional refer to it, covers 12 acres and is heavily planted.
There are five acres of potatoes, three of sweet corn and some 44 individual garden plots. Some of the members have garden plots at home to their participation in the farm work is limited to the potatoes and sweet corn which were planted on a cooperative basis with arrangements made to distribute the harvest equitably among all.

The club has nearly solved the problem of the "one-acre problem" of seeing that everyone who wishes to do the work. It uses an honor system, posting the names of the members and letting each one mark on the list how many hours of work he or she has put into the garden. Members can take as much or as little of the harvest as they wish, but they are expected to do the producing of individual gardens has kept the distribution of work on a fairly equitable basis.

Early Spring Proposal
The garden idea was advanced last March by C. C. Roberts, president and general manager of the company. It was quickly adopted and interested persons soon organized the club and selected a committee to do the managing and arrange for such work as preparing the land.

The company gave the gardeners a lift by providing the fertilizer and the seed potatoes and seed corn and officials are doing their share of the work in keeping the crops free of weeds.
For workers at the Scioto power plant, the company likewise helped establish a three-acre potato and corn cooperative garden plot for those who care to plant their own vegetables.

Land Contributed
The land problem solved itself before it developed because J.
Malcolm Strellitz, vice president and legal advisor for the company, offered the free use of a 12-acre tract just south of the George Washington elementary school as soon as he heard the project was being considered.

The club found help from other sources, also, machinery dealers and farmers lending equipment for use in preparing the land for planting. All of the work, however, has been done by the members themselves.

G. L. Pierson was chosen as chairman of the garden club.
Lawrence Yinger, secretary and treasurer, and others on the committee.

AIR FORCES TO OPERATE DEPOT
AT WAR PLANT

Among Factors Cited To Assure Continued Employment at Scioto.

Emphasizing anew that employment at the Scioto Ordnance Plant is to continue at substantial level regardless of any contrary indication that might have been given by a news dispatch from Washington yesterday regarding the plant, Major Philip E. Gruber, commanding officer at Scioto, announced today that several important developments are under way at the plant.

One development is that the big Scioto plant will soon become the site of an Army Air Forces supply depot. Major Gruber said that Lieut. William E. Hadeler, already has been assigned to Scioto for the purpose of preparing the area for work peculiar to the Air Force activity.
Major Gruber said that the depot will be set up and operation of the depot is to come later, but a portion of the plant is being turned over to the Air Force, he said.

Another development was a further explanation of the conversion program now under way at part of the plant. Major Gruber said that part of the present active part of the plant is being converted to the production of small arms ammunition which is needed in greater quantity than originally expected.

"When fully converted to small arms production, the Army Air Forces will have for its immediate use in combat far greater quantities of highly important machinery, ammunition," Major Gruber said.

Mentioning both of these developments as having a bearing on the employment situation at Scioto, Major Gruber pointed out that although certain elements of the plant had been declared a standby unit early this year, as announced from Washington yesterday, a limited number have been kept in operation for important artillery ammunition supplies.

Owing to changes in character of the war in combat areas, plans to carry on these operations at Scioto do not extend beyond early fall, he said. He added that the Army consequently decided to take advantage of the trained personnel available at Scioto by converting the present active part of the plant to production of small arms ammunition for the Air Forces. Work on this conversion is in progress and probably will be completed by the time the plant has finished its artillery ammunition schedule, he said.

He praised the U. S. Rubber Co., operating the plant, for helping to make the conversion possible on such short notice.

Future Plans
Summing up the plans for operating the plant in the months to come, Major Gruber said that in all probability, employment at the plant will continue "on or about the same level" during and after the conversion program, and that added activity by the Air Force unquestionably will augment employment.

He said that plans for the establishment of the Army Air Forces supply depot on the plant grounds are entirely independent from the conversion of the plant's production to Army Air Forces ammunition.

TRAFFIC LIGHTS ON AFTER 12-HOUR BREAK-DOWN

Six Intersections Without Protection; Controller Out of Order Traffic lights at six downtown intersections were back in operation about 9:30 this morning after a breakdown in the insulation of the city's master controller about 10 o'clock last night caused them to be out for almost 12 hours. City officials report it was the first such major breakdown in about six years.

Repairs were discovered by trouble in the controller located at the intersection in the Eagle building about 8 this morning and had the master mechanism back in working order in 30 minutes.

Only downtown traffic lights were out as a result of the breakdown. Lights in the residential district were not affected, officials report.

"Police do not believe the breakdown disrupted downtown traffic to any great extent as the lights were scheduled to go out for service for the night, as usual, at 10:30."

U. S. SUB TRITON

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 22—The Navy announced today the American submarine Triton, bold rider of Japanese shipping, "must be presumed to be lost" on a war patrol.

The Triton, which had destroyed more than a dozen enemy warships and merchantmen, was commanded by Lieutenant Commander George Kenneth Mackenzie Jr., of Brooklyn, N. Y.

The vessel carried a normal

It was the tenth United States undersea boat to be lost in this war, including eight lost as a result of combat in the Pacific and two as a result of non-combat incidents in the Atlantic.

On the other hand, United States subs have accounted for 293 Japanese ships sunk or dam-tons.

Television Ready for General Use When War Is Over

By The Associated Press
The National Television Association, which has been working for the past several years to develop a standard for television sets, announced today that it has completed its work. The association, which is made up of manufacturers, broadcasters and consumers, has developed a standard for television sets that will be ready for general use when the war is over. The standard is based on the current practice of most manufacturers and broadcasters, and is designed to be simple and practical. It will allow for the production of sets that will be easy to use and maintain, and will be able to receive all the major television channels. The association hopes that this standard will speed the development of a national television network, and will make it possible for the general public to enjoy the benefits of television when the war is over.

State Court Rules on Police Retirement

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., July 22—Police and firemen may not be required to retire at the age of 55, the state supreme court ruled today in a decision handed down yesterday. The court ruled in favor of the police and firemen, who had argued that the state's retirement law, which required them to retire at the age of 55, was unconstitutional. The court said that the law was not a valid exercise of the state's power to regulate the police and fire departments, and that it was an unconstitutional interference with the rights of the police and firemen to work for as long as they wished. The court's decision is a victory for the police and firemen, and will allow them to continue to work for the state until they are ready to retire.

Catholic Leader Deplores Bombing of Rome by U. S.

By The Associated Press
ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., July 22—The most Rev. Joseph P. Hurley, bishop of St. Augustine and formerly attached to the Vatican as aide to the papal secretary of state, declared yesterday that "every decent Christian thought and sentiment within me cries out that we have made a tragically mistaken decision" in the bombing of Rome.

Bishop Hurley now at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., issued his statement through the chancery here. The news of the bombing of Rome by our own soldiers "has pained me beyond expression," he said. "I realize very well that the Fascist government of Italy has sought with craven cunning to protect some of its military activities by carrying them on within the shadow of the sacred shrines of Christendom. I appreciate, too, the meticulous care with which our airmen endeavored, though vainly, to avoid hitting churches and historic monuments in the Eternal City, but every decent Christian thought and sentiment within me cries out that we have made a tragically mistaken decision in the higher moral strategy of this war."

"I am convinced, too, that the raid on Rome has darkened our prospects for the sort of peace so ardently desired by all of us. . . . 'Whatever the professionals of war may say about 'military necessity' good men the world over will earnestly pray that the Eternal City be spared further air raids. Such raids would only serve to imperil our hopes for a future of Christian peace. . . . Let Washington not be deceived by the obscene chorus of approval which is registered in the regimented press. Our government will show wisdom and virtue if with sincere contrition it addresses itself at once to rebuilding these ruins. . . ."

The mailing would not be handled by the July 21 deadline set by the OPA, but large numbers of ration books were mailed in the past few days, making it possible to finish on time, Cannon said.

M. A. Puley, Columbus district OPA administrative officer, estimated there are 200,000 applications still to be handled and asked those failing to receive ration books to wait until Aug. 1 before checking with local ration boards concerning the books. OPA offices will process books after the mailing center closes.

WORKERS TO TACKLE ABSENTEEISM PROBLEM

By The Associated Press
CLEVELAND, July 22—In a move described by war manpower officials as without precedent in the country, employees of the Aluminum Company of America's Cleveland plants have been commissioned by their employer to reduce absenteeism and labor turnover "by their own methods."

Dr. William P. Edmunds, Cleveland war manpower director, announced the plan today, whereby representatives of the CIO Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers union were given the company's critical manpower shortage and aiding war production.

"Labor has long been blamed by too many propagandists for all absenteeism and turnover," the WMC director said. "Now, at Alcoa, labor will have the duty and responsibility of seeing what it can do on this front, by their own methods."

Herman Clott, international union representative and a member of the committee, said, on behalf of the group:

"I want to say sincerely, in behalf of the union, that we are going to do all in our power to aid war production and cut absenteeism."

LIONS CLOSE CONVENTION, INSTALL NEW PRESIDENT

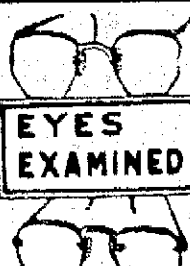

Roanoke, Va., Physician Heads Civic Organization.
By The Associated Press
CLEVELAND, July 22—Closing their 27th annual international convention here today, Lions club members from throughout the Americas installed Dr. E. G. Gull of Roanoke, Va., as their new international president.

participated in a victory review in public auditorium, where tribute was paid by the organization to the military forces.

The convention heard an office of price administration official describe the OPA as the "best investment American consumers have ever made."

Dr. J. Paul Leonard, group service chief in OPA's consumer division, told the delegates the OPA would save every person in the country about $14 this year — if present price levels are maintained.

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

The Star makes again to remind its readers that publication cannot be expected to be without compensation, especially when relating to a controversial subject. This rule must be observed in fairness to all persons and interests concerned.

COMMENTS ON STRIKES BY SOLDIER IN AFRICA

Editor of The Star: I am sending a portion of a letter from my son, Staff Sgt. William H. Scott of a fighter group located "Somewhere in Africa." This is the sentiment of most of the boys in uniform in the strike situation. He is a radio man and gets the news direct from U. S.

"From what I have been hearing on the radio, the strike seems to be continuing. The boys overseas are really tired up about it too. What would happen if we all refused to make any more missions over enemy territory until we received more pay? Yet they are keeping us from reading those missions by holding up production of equipment that is really needed over here. While we are trying to get this war over as quickly as possible, it seems as though some of them back home are trying to make it last as long as they can so they can make still more profits. Just let those strikers hear the whistle of a bomb or two, or fly into a cloud of flak or run into a flame thrower. That would be incentive enough to put them back to work twice as hard as before at any old wage. I wonder if they think that a fellow who gets a German plane thrown in his face, or gets his body scattered all over his plane by a burst of flak is getting paid enough. There were a lot of boys who came overseas to meet the enemy, but it's going to be a long time going back and you can bet your sweet life there are going to be some changes made."

Marion, R. R. No. 3.

Sen. Taft Critical Of Scrapping in Party

WASHINGTON, July 21.—Declaring what he termed efforts of some "hot-headed Republicans" to "stir up and keep alive" pre-war party differences, Sen. Robert A. Taft, Cincinnati, O., Republican, asserted:

"I can't see why anyone interested in Republican success, in 1944 could call other Republicans a lot of names when there seems to be no wide difference in the party."

Taft's assertions were made to reporters as he commented on developments occurring in an unofficial Republican Post-War Policy Association meeting in New York Monday. Mayo Shattuck, president of the Massachusetts Bar association and chairman of the policy association's resolutions committee, told the New York meeting the people should be shown that election of a Republican administration "does not mean another gang of inward-turning, narrow-minded, isolationist, stuffed shirts."

Cheese with Salad Makes Solid Meal

By BETSY NEWMAN

Mix cheese with your salad for a hearty luncheon or supper dish, or a garden supper salad. It gives you the protein needed in your meal.

MENU
Vegetable and Cheese or Garden Supper Salad, Creamed New Potatoes, Green Beans, Peach Pie, Coffee.

Vegetable and Cheese Salad
Two c. cooked peas, 1/2 onion, sliced, salt and pepper, salad dressing, 1 c. celery, sliced, 1 lb. cheese, cubed, 1/2 c. real mayonnaise.

Combine peas, cheese, celery, onion and seasonings. Moisten with the mayonnaise and put in the refrigerator to marinate and chill. Serve in salad bowl lined with greens. Serves 6.

Garden Supper Salad
Two c. cooked peas, onion, chopped, 1/2 c. soaked lima beans, 1 small cucumber, sliced, 1 1/2 c. cooked carrots and peas, cold, boiled frankfurter, salt, pepper, 1 sm. cooked cauliflower, 1 1/2 c. celery, sliced, lettuce, French dressing Mayonnaise.

You can use fresh carrots and cauliflower in place of the cooked, if you wish. Add chopped onion to lima beans; season lima beans, cucumber, celery, mixed carrots and peas, with 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1/2 teaspoon pepper, each in separate bowls. Marinate each in 1/2 tablespoons French dressing for 1 hour. Place whole cauliflower in center of chop plate, surround with lettuce leaves. Divide chop plate into 4 sections with frankfurters, and place marinated vegetables in each section. Serve with real mayonnaise. Serves 6.

Good Stews Aid To War Workers
Salads and light fare is all right when life is easy and energy confined to athletics or just plain lounging. But these days, when most of us are working in war plants or defense or canner duty, hearty fare is the thing, good meat stews rich with vegetables and savory seasonings.

Savory Stew
This savory stew with vegetables will serve 6 to 8 portions. Have 2 pounds stew meat (beef, veal or lamb) cut into small cubes. Roll in flour, seasoned with 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1/2 teaspoon pepper, and brown in 2 tablespoons of lard or drippings. Chop onions and brown in the hot fat. Mix 2 cups tomato puree with 2 cups boiling water, heat and pour over meat and onion. Add 2 bay leaves and simmer for an hour. Add one minced onion, 4 stalks celery (cut in 1-inch pieces), one diced green pepper, 3 sliced carrots and 4 quartered potatoes. Simmer until all ingredients are done—about an hour. Liquid may be thickened with flour or gravy.

Heart Stew
Heart stew served with a rice border is a delicious, hearty and inexpensive meal served with a well-made green salad and a fruit cobbler for dessert. Wash a beef heart (3 pounds) and remove all veins and arteries. Cut into one-inch cubes and let soak in cold water for 15 minutes. Drain. Add boiling water to cover; then add 2 tablespoons each cubed carrot, cubed onion, 1/4 cup chopped celery and 3 teaspoons salt. Cover and cook for 3 1/2 to 4 hours until tender. Blend 2 tablespoons flour with 2 tablespoons melted lard or drippings and stir into stew to thicken. Add tablespoon vinegar. Last Service in border made with 2 cups cooked rice. Sprinkle with parsley.

LEXINGTON, O., SOLDIER KILLED

Galion Woman's Husband One of 4 in Flying Fort Killed Over Sicily.

Special to The Star
 GALION, July 22—Sgt. Carson E. Logan, 23, of nearby Lexington, husband of a Galion woman, has been unofficially reported killed in action in the war on Sicily, relatives here learned yesterday. Sgt. Logan's wife is the former Miss Jean Mann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil J. Mann.

Story of the battle in which Sgt. Logan and three other members of the fortress crew met their deaths was told to war correspondents in Sicily by First Sgt. Allen B. Huckabee, who suffered 11 wounds in the battle, and Tech Sgt. David Fleming, wounded five times. These two men were rescued from a hospital at Regusa on the southern side of Sicily shortly after the town was captured by 17 U. S. soldiers and two jeeps.

Week Before Invasion
 The story of the battle, which took place on July 5 approximately a week before the actual invasion of Sicily was launched, as told by Sgts. Huckabee and Fleming follows: "Everything was going fine until we were about 10 minutes from the target. Then we were attacked by swarms of Messerschmitt 109s and Macchi 202s but we kept on and dropped our bombs."

"As we were pulling off from the target more enemy planes kept coming on us. The anti-aircraft fire knocked out our No. 4 engine, setting it afire and slowing us up. We were forced to drop back from the formation. The anti-aircraft fire later hit our No. 1 engine. We were losing altitude fast and the accompanying wing ships had to leave us to protect themselves. There we were all alone. Those 109s and 202s began pouring it in on us."

Survivors Captured
 Before its guns went dead the fortress counted 11 enemy planes. Finally First Lt. Albert E. Davis gave the order to bail out. They were immediately captured on the ground and taken to a Catholic hospital. Those who were not badly wounded were later moved to Venice.

Sgt. Logan was a waist gunner on the fortress. He had been in North Africa since February and in the Army air corps since last Sept. 22. While on a furlough in December, he and Miss Mann were married.

He was a lifelong resident of Lexington and was the son of Mrs. J. F. Logan of this community. Surviving besides the mother and wife are two sisters, Gladys of Lexington and Mrs. Lucille Whites of Newark.

OHIOAN MISSING

 WASHINGTON, July 22—Raymond, Francis Flisher of Middletown, O., was listed as missing by the Navy department today. He is the son of James Slandley Flisher of Middletown.

MORROW CO. WARDEN HURT
 GALION—Floyd Stierrett of Mt. Gilead, dog warden of Morrow county, was admitted to Galion City hospital, Wednesday, for treatment for injuries suffered while at the county fairgrounds at Mt. Gilead. The extent of his injuries was not learned immediately.

Missouri Senator Favors Program of Ads for Nation

By The Associated Press
 WASHINGTON, July 22—Paid newspaper advertising by the government to aid the stabilization program and the war effort is favored by Senator Clark (D-Mo.). "It is ridiculous to say this would be a subsidy or would lead to government control of the press," he declared in remarks inserted in the congressional record.

Supporting a bill introduced by Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.), Clark said:

"Every manufacturer of munitions, every purveyor of any other kind of war supplies, expects to be not only paid for what he furnishes but a reasonable profit on top of it."

"I see no reason why the newspapers should not equally be paid for the only thing they have to sell—that is, their advertising space—when it is devoted to the government's interest."

The Missourian, asserting that newspapers already have contributed greatly to the war effort by free insertion of government releases, said that while some large newspapers have been able to recompense themselves by getting their own large advertisers to back various war activities, smaller newspapers have not been able to do this.

Union County Man Wins Flying Cross As Gunner on Fort

MARYSVILLE, July 21—The first Union county man to be reported to have been decorated with the distinguished flying cross is Staff Sergeant Albert Todd Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert T. Smith of Irwin in western Union county, and he has given his buddies something to shout at.

The latest decoration was announced by the war department. Sgt. Smith has been a tail gunner on a flying fortress in England since last September. His parents have received word that he was awarded the air medal in December, 1942 and the oak leaf cluster last February. They were notified by the war department that he was wounded in action January 13, 1943, but the latest award indicated that he is back on duty.

Sgt. Smith evidently is a member of a famous crew. He told of shaking hands with Anthony Eden, Gen. Devers and Gen. Eaker when they inspected his Flying Fortress in June. He is 24 years of age and before enlisting in the service in October, 1941, was employed at the Studebaker plant at South Bend, Ind.

Patterson Blames Mussolini for Bombing of Rome

WASHINGTON, July 22—Discussing the bombing of Rome, acting Secretary of War Patterson said today Premier Mussolini "resisted all efforts to persuade him to remove military installations from Rome and to preserve its immunity from attack by declaring it an open city."

Patterson said reconnaissance photographs disclosed heavy damage had been inflicted on two railroad yards, and railroad roundhouses, a steel works, a chemical plant, hangars at air bases and a number of parked airplanes had been destroyed or heavily damaged.

He also told a press conference: Allied air strength in Sicily outnumbers the axis as much as 10 to 1. The enemy has not more than two or three airfields left on the island, and these are practically useless because of constant bombing by allied planes.

There is no truth in the axis claims of heavy allied naval losses. Thus far the allies have taken more than 40,000 prisoners, including four generals commanding divisions, while "our own casualties continue to be relatively light."

The successful operations of the 7th army are particularly pleasing to the war department, because of the five divisions participating in the landing operations, only the first infantry division had had extensive combat experience in Tunisia. The 45th infantry division and 32nd airborne division, in combat for the first time in Sicily, "fought like veterans."

LABOR WARNS PRICES MUST COME DOWN

WASHINGTON, July 22—Organized labor served notice today it would demand removal of Price Administrator Prentiss Brown and scrapping of the little steel wage formula. If prices are not rolled back to the Sept. 15, 1942, level as stipulated by congress and the administration.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, and Philip Murray, head of the congress of industrial organizations, joined in this statement today after a meeting between President Roosevelt and the combined labor war board.

Green said the threat to seek Brown's removal was not made to the President, but that the labor leaders did emphasize to the Chief Executive that unless prices were reduced they would demand that the war labor board cast overboard the little steel formula, under which wage increases of 15 per cent are permitted to compensate for rises in the cost of living since Jan. 1, 1941.

Green said Brown and other price and wage stabilization agencies had failed to check rising prices with the result that wages "are practically frozen and prices are soaring."

Hardin County Soldiers in Invasion of Sicily

KENTON, July 22—Announcement by the war department of names of the various divisions and armed forces taking part in the invasion of Sicily brought word today that at least seven Hardin county soldiers are in the Second Armored Division now in thick of the fighting.

They include Leon Anderson, William Wargacher, James Biddinger, Warren Rish, Paul Hollinger and Clarence Rader of Kenton and Ed Simpson of Forest.

REV. JAMES CARDER of New Marshfield, O., above, who has been conducting revival services in the Nazarene mission at 836 Silver street, will continue the meetings each night next week. Misses Eva and Eva Grate of Lexington, O., are the special singers. The services, opened last Sunday night, are at 8 p. m. and are open to the public.

Human Lightning Rod Struck Again at Kenton

KENTON, O., July 21 — Charles Brown, Kenton, today was recovering in his home here after suffering his seventh electric shock from lightning bolts.

The local trucker and produce jobber arose from bed early Saturday when the electrical storm disturbed his slumber. He was moving about the house at time of a particularly close lightning flash and was found in a dazed condition shortly thereafter by his daughter, Doris, and a sister, Myrtle.

Previously, Mr. Brown had suffered from burns and shock in several other close calls and a few months ago appeared on a nationwide radio hook-up to tell of his experience as a "human lightning rod."

Disabling sunstroke, the first case reported this season, was suffered Wednesday noon by J. B. Moore of 481 Cherry avenue, causing him to collapse while moving the lawn at his home. Although a physician did not make a definite diagnosis of sunstroke, Mr. Moore was believed overcome by the sun's heat.

He fell forward, his head striking on the ground. He suffered cuts about the face. He was admitted to City hospital at 11:43 a. m. and died Wednesday night and was buried at 1:30 p. m. with the exception of the unbearably hot sun.

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

"OH, I THOUGHT you heard him say that he would be in the taxi. Dad wishes us to take," I said. "He'll be leaning out of the door, which will be ajar, so we can't make any mistake."

"Sorry!" Dicky said. "Guess my eye wasn't on the ball all the time. Well, here's the elevator. We're on our way."

We were on our way, indeed, a few minutes later. The taxi—with Dicky and me on one seat, and on the one facing us, a young man whom I never had seen, but whom Dicky had recognized and addressed as Cushing—lost no time getting us through the streets to the Van Sticht hotel.

Dresses for Her Part

The guard got out first and went into the hotel. In three minutes he was back with an obsequious doorman, and from that moment the competent service of a big hotel bore us along until we were finally deposited on the fifteenth floor, where the housekeeper awaited me. She promptly brought me the uniform I was to wear, and told me that all my implements of service would be awaiting me on the seventeenth floor when I was ready to go up.

"Just call me," she said, "and I will take you up there into a vacant room and give you a little drill."

Then she turned to Dicky. "Would you like to go to the room you reserved on the seventeenth floor?" she asked.

"I'll give you my answer in just a second," he said, walking to the door. "I heard him say 'Cushing' and the next instant the guard's voice: 'Yes, sir?'"

"I am going to leave here now," Dicky said. "I wish you to remain on guard in the corridor here until the housekeeper takes Mrs. Graham to the seventeenth floor. Then you are to come up there to the room whose number she will give me. Just wait, please."

He turned back to the housekeeper.

"What is the number of my room?" he asked.

She told him, and he went to the door again, and repeated it to Cushing.

"I understand, sir," the man said, "and I'll let nobody come near unless authorized by Mrs. Graham."

"A man named Haloran will be coming in a few minutes," Dicky said, "but he's the only one. On second thought, I'll just stay here till he arrives, then there'll be no confusion."

"Okay," Cushing replied, and Dicky came back into the room.

The Stars Say—

For Friday, July 23

According to the lunar and mutual aspects this should be a good day for serious and steady application to tasks, duties and investment of funds, and even if the results are not immediate, the steady returns of this may be in association with old-established institutions, with diplomatic or political groups where sound obligations and abilities are recognized. Well-organized strategies may be employed but earnest effort based on principle and fidelity should win in the long run, with rewards of merit and lasting results worth working for with diligence and strict regardness. In private affairs also, let duty be the watchword. Elders and home ties will be appreciative.

Those whose birthday it is may have a year in which lasting and substantial rewards for recognition for past performances may be expected. It is a time for working with serious and sustained efforts, guided by quickened and dependable intuition, employing diplomacy, tact and strategy. Sound investments in lands, property and securities are encouraged. Elders and old institutions may confer worthwhile benefits.

A child born on this day will be endowed with solid and dependable abilities and traits of character. It should be industrious and practical, although philosophical, perhaps psychic and have reliable intuitions.

"Now I can give you my answer," he told the housekeeper. "As soon as the man arrives whom we are expecting at ten minutes after eight, I will go up to my room on the seventeenth floor. But—I have no key. I didn't stop at the desk."

Gives Dicky the Key

"That has all been arranged," the housekeeper told him. "Here is the key. You can go up whenever you wish."

She gave Dicky the key, looked around the room to see that everything was in readiness for me, and then took her leave with another injunction to call her as soon as I was ready for her.

"Efficient lady!" Dicky commented as the door closed after her. "I like this hotel. And now, old dear, keep the old chin up! I probably will devil you when you go bending over your carpet sweeper, but I don't think you will—I'll be there with a whole sleigh-bell harness on. And don't forget—I'm the official listening post. As soon as Ruth Hayes enters the hotel, I'll know it, and report to you immediately. And now, as only an airy wave of the hand will be in place after Haloran arrives, I'll just kiss you au revoir now."

His tender caress was interrupted by the telephone.

"Mr. Haloran calling," the operator said. "He wishes to come up to the room."

"Please send him up at once," Dicky said, and five minutes later, Haloran, trim and smiling, appeared at the door which Dicky had set ajar.

Spiking Blood Donor Gossip

This column presumes that every American, male and female, not in the armed forces, between the ages of eighteen and fifty-five (or in some cases over), has considered giving a point of blood in order to make blood plasma for the armed forces.

When a procedure so unusual and foreign to ordinary routine is carried out on such a large scale as the Red Cross blood donating, there is bound to be a great deal of gossip and rumors which spread like wildfire, and in this case are often subversive to the war effort. One such piece of gossip which has come to my ears is the great fear of fainting on the part of the donor giving the blood.

In the first place I think I should say, having seen several blood banks in operation, that every care and precaution is taken to carry out the procedure with the very best technique; there are doctors and nurses and attendants, the donor is, if necessary, rested before the blood is withdrawn.

A rest period is provided afterwards with refreshments of orange juice or hot coffee or milk. The amount of blood which is removed is one pint—approximately one-twelfth of the blood in the body—and by universal medical agreement can do no permanent harm. All these things tend to minimize the importance of fainting. As a matter of fact, a faint does no particular harm except that it creates an area of fear in the community of the donor.

Some London physicians have attempted to find out what peculiar type of donor is likely to faint and why he does so. Fainting is more frequent among donors blood for the first time. Neither anxiety nor overweight has any apparent relation to fainting. The surface area of the body, which is a rough guide to blood volume, is somewhat smaller among fainters than among non-fainters. The humidity or room temperature has no relation to fainting. Men faint just as often as women. The rate of withdrawal of blood has no effect as long as the amount drawn stays within the prescribed limit.

Fatigue seems to be a very important factor. This is probably because it causes a depression of blood pressure. Fainting is found more often in those who had their last meal four and one-half hours before donating blood, or longer. The blood pressure taken before the blood is drawn is no guide to the likelihood of fainting. A drop of 1 per cent in blood pressure occurs immediately after bleeding, but this alone will not cause fainting. Donors who come from hot offices or industrial plants can be protected from fainting by drinking some salt water about an hour before the blood donation is begun.
